International Business

This textbook explores the theoretical and practical aspects of managing international business operations while also dealing with multi-cultural, multi-national and global issues of managing business expansion beyond the domestic market. A second, revised edition of Managing Internationally: Succeeding in a Culturally Diverse World, each chapter contains up-to-date material, in-depth coverage of topics, visual aids (i.e., charts, tables, etc.), and vignettes, making this new edition engaging, visually appealing and easily accessible for students taking International Business Management courses. The contents of this textbook are separated into four parts. Part one offers introductory information on the scope and importance of international business management as well as the social and ethical challenges. Part two covers cultural and behavioral topics. Part three discusses the strategic and operational aspects of international business management. Part four explores human resources and labor relations. To assist students, each chapter starts a preview section which includes an outline of the chapter indicating the important aspects along with a brief description of the major issues. Following the preview is a vignette that encapsulates the crux of the chapter, often presented in an amusing and engaging manner. To further help students focus on key issues, the text includes the list of useful business cases to which students can refer. To assist professors in teaching from this book, ancillary teaching materials such as sample syllabi, slides, tests and answer keys will be available for download.

Terrorism and the International Business Environment It has become the new normal of China's economic development for Chinese enterprises to go abroad and conduct transnational operations, with the deepening of China's "going global" strategy, especially with the advancing of the Belt and Road initiative since 2014. However, some Chinese enterprises often suffer great failure and gain nothing in the process of "going global", due to a lack of strategic thinking, comprehensive strategic management, and effective strategic communication. The reasons for it are multiple: there are economic, social, and managerial factors; some countries have bad intentions, but the lack of cross-cultural communication is the most common. Practice has proved that Chinese enterprises must carry out effective and fruitful cross-cultural communication in order to develop and strengthen themselves in the complicated and fast-changing international business environment. Past experience taught us that knowing and understanding the culture of the target country, satisfying the public's demand of the target country, fitting into the society of the target country and comprehensively promoting the economic and social development of the target country are effective
